Step 1: Individual Personality types

Type down the individual Myers-Briggs type preferences of all the team members and calculate the percentage of the presentation of each letter within you team. Define your group personality profile by picking up the letter with higher percentage on each of the four scales.

Name	E/I	S/N	T/F	J/P

%	E=	S=	T=	J=
	I=	N=	F=	P=

Step 2: Group personality type

Transfer the percentage presentation to the graph and to the spider diagram in order to create a visual of your groups self-assessed personality profile. Discuss how your group personality type might have an effect on your preferred model of idea generation activities, decision making and handling of conflicts.
