

Facts about GRØN DYST - Intro for students

The GRØN DYST Study Conference takes place on June 22, 2012

Focus on sustainability, the Environment and Climate Technology

Engineers play a pivotal role in ensuring a sustainable social development. Throughout their education, students at DTU are trained in conceiving, designing, and implementing sustainable solutions.

That's why DTU has created
GRØN DYST

What is GRØN DYST?

- GRØN DYST focuses on 'green technology' in all study programs at DTU
- GRØN DYST culminates in a biennial GRØN DYST study conference where you can present your project and win prizes. Total prize money is DKK 200,000.

How can I participate?

- You can enter a project that contains elements of 'green technology' and has been completed in the period from fall 2010 to spring 2012.
- You can enter one of four categories:

Bachelor level course (existing course or special course)	Master level course (existing course or special course)
Bachelor project	Master thesis

GRØN DYST is aimed at all study programs.

What do I have to do to participate?

I already HAVE a project I can enter in GRØN DYST

- ➔ Sign up on groendyst.dtu.dk

I DON'T have a project I can enter in GRØN DYST

- ➔ Check the course catalogue. Are any of the courses you've already chosen relevant for GRØN DYST?
- ➔ Talk to your professor/tutor. You can make a 'green' project in almost all courses
- ➔ Check the project and internship database for inspiration for projects that are suitable for GRØN DYST

What's in it for me?

- You get to present your project to executive business people and politicians from Christiansborg (Danish parliament)
- Valuable experience in conference participation
- Showcase that there is an element of 'green technology' in everything
- A chance to win cash prizes (total prize money DKK 200,000)
- A fun and challenging day at DTU

Deadlines

March 5, 2012	'Green Week' at DTU, which focuses on GRØN DYST
April 13, 2012	Registration closes Deadline for upload of abstract draft
May 20, 2012	Deadline for upload of final abstract
June 22, 2012	The GRØN DYST Study Conference

Further information on groendyst.dtu.dk

